Proactively score clinician experience when using clinical/business applications

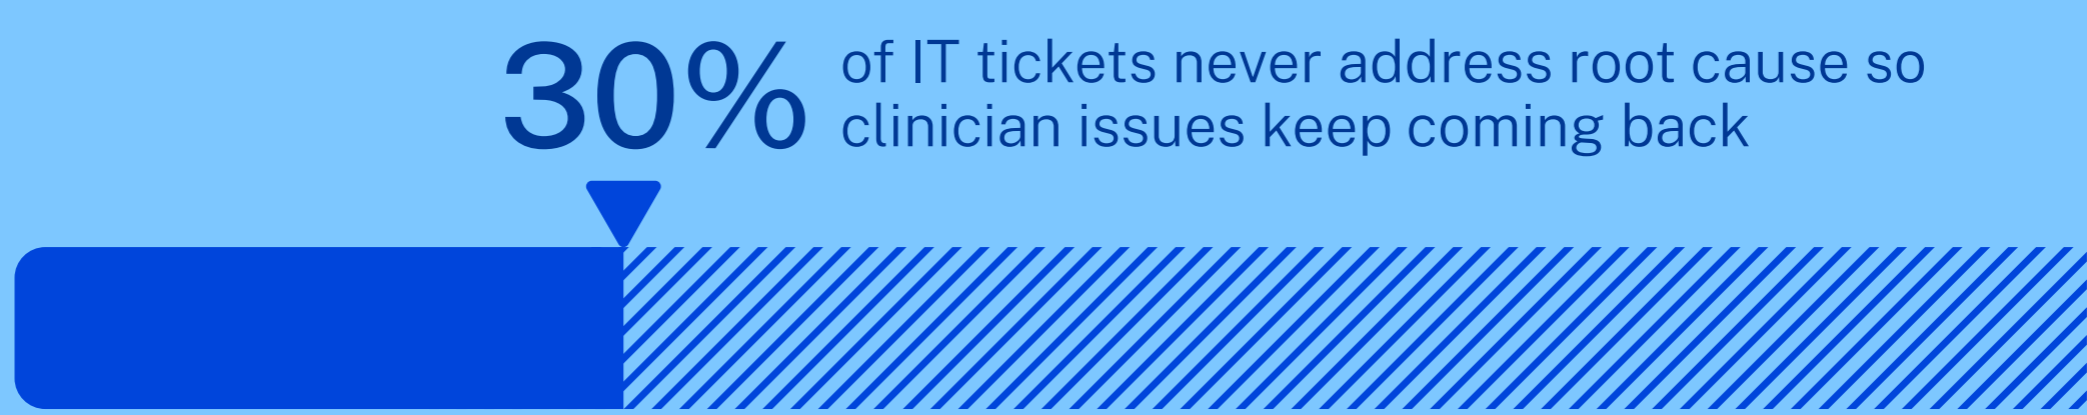

Industry-only reports showing what clinicians are experiencing without need for clinician engagement

Finally, there's objective documentation that measures clinician experience, with insights into the true root cause so experience can be improved. Now you can shift from reactive to proactive IT.

With Goliath and Citrix, get complete, proactive, end-to-end visibility into the underlying delivery infrastructure, including unique details on the end user so IT knows what to address to improve clinician experience.

Stop by our booth at HIMSS to see:

AI, intelligence, and automation working in tandem to improve clinician experience

Unique and industry-only partnerships with Epic, Oracle Cerner, MEDITECH, and Google providing unmatched visibility into clinician experience
